

Thank You For Your Patience

Manufacturing and distribution chains across the food industry are facing heavy disruptions due to shortages of supplies and staff. These unprecedented disruptions are resulting in limited and delayed shipments of our food, supplies, and equipment.

Please bear with us as we work through these day to day challenges! We make every effort to serve our menu as planned. However, our menus may change due to product availability and shortages as well as our very own staffing shortages.

Your patience and support is greatly appreciated. Thank you.

TerraBites Cafe